

The following terms and conditions apply to the use of the data of Esri UK provided within the Living Atlas (collectively referred to as "Data").

The Data remains the property of Esri UK and/or the third party Data provider and its use is only permitted in conjunction with ArcGIS software (including applicable licence terms) and these Terms.

Data is provided "as is," and Esri UK disclaims any and all warranties, whether express or implied.

In no event will Esri UK be liable to the user or to any third party for any direct or indirect loss resulting from any use or misuse of the Data and the user assumes the entire risk related to its use of the Data. The user will indemnify Esri UK against claims from third parties in respect of damage or loss resulting from its use of the Data.

Esri UK accepts no responsibility for inaccuracy, incompleteness or error of the Data and the quality of the Data is highly dependent on that of the source data used. Data is not automatically synchronized with source data which means that it may take some time before the Data is updated after any change to the source data.

Unless explicitly stated otherwise in the item description the Data may be used offline, provided that the Data has been downloaded through applicable Esri Content Packages.

It is not permitted, unless expressly agreed, to provide the Data to third parties, to distribute it, to sell it again, or to use it in navigation systems or in applications that are used in high-risk circumstances.

Esri UK reserves the right to modify the content of the Data it has made available, to remove parts and to improve the Data at any time, without informing you. Esri UK also reserves the right to periodically amend these Terms.

Esri UK is not responsible for any third party website or link that appears or is referenced on Esri UK offerings or Esri UK websites. Providing links to third-party websites and resources does not imply an endorsement, affiliation or sponsorship of any kind.

References to any copyrights of Esri UK and third parties must always be reproduced.

Additional terms specific to the Data may apply, and these can be found in the 'Terms of Use' section for each item.

The user acknowledges the terms under which the Data is supplied and shall ensure that it will use the Data in accordance with these Terms, all applicable licences, laws and regulations and any reasonable instructions given by Esri UK to the user from time to time. If the user is not willing to agree to the foregoing it must not use the Data.
